

Stone Age Boy by Augustinus

Suddenly, I saw something move in the darkness. I took a step back nervously. I took 3 steps back from the bear now. I took my spear out and started waving my spear without looking. But then the ground started shaking and next in my life I felt myself falling down. By the time I got up in the distance I shouted for help but no one came. I wondered if the bear would come to. Then I shouted for Om because I felt lonely, just as I walked I saw the future. My home! Immediately, I ran until I saw my building. Today, I told my parents that I was in the Stone Age and I found a friend called Om.