

Stone Age Boy by Jamal

Suddenly, I saw something more in the darkness.

I tried to figure out what it was but I couldn't. Just then, I heard a loud snarl. To my surprise, it was a giant cave lion. As quickly as I could I warned Om. We took steps back until we reached a dead end.

It changed at 18 but luckily we stayed it and the lion hit a wall revealing a hidden path. As quickly as we could we hid in the hidden path. Just then we reached a dead end and a massive hole. We took a leap of faith and I found myself falling down down down. I fell asleep.

When I woke up I could see daylight in the distance. I wandered out and slanted Om's name but there was no answer. The lion and Om had completely disappeared. I went back to my city and from there I went home. My men

Said I had only been away for 2 hours. I turned into an archeologist. Years passed but I never forgot Om. Was it a dream? Maybe.... Maybe not. I went into a cave and found the chest showing Om drew. I remember all the fun times we had.
